

Focus Points

"Focus Points" are short activities that draw students into the lesson. They take only a few minutes to do. Many can be used as quick-start activities to engage the students and focus their attention at the beginning of class. Others may fit well during the lesson to reinforce a point and drive it home. Still others may serve as good wrap-up activities. "Focus Points" come in many forms. Choose and use them as you see fit.

Here is a quick quiz to see what your students know about Lot, Abraham's nephew. Hand out the questions and give them two minutes to circle the right answers. If you use this as a start-up activity, you might want to wait until after the lesson to go over the answers.
